

CASE STUDY

Authorisation Competence Check & Technical Support

BACKGROUND

AEP Global stands out from their competitors through our rigorous candidate selection process. This includes a technical interview and trade test to assess competence, with a minimum pass mark of 80%. Our technical directors, who bring extensive experience, conduct these interviews, providing a level of expertise and insight which helps us to place the best possible candidate. Gavin as former Energy Marshall, brings unique qualifications to the table, as do our other directors who have held significant positions both offshore and onshore, including roles as Cx Manager, REP's, and Senior E&I Managers.

At AEP Global, we conduct technical interviews to ensure that a candidates' CV aligns with the required experience, exposure, and education for their respective positions. These positions include:

- Authorising Energy Marshall
- Senior Authorised Person
- Authorised Person
- Cx Manager
- Cx Engineer
- QAQC Engineer
- Testing Supervisors/Testers

The tailored competence questions asked during the interview, will vary depending on the position available. Our commitment is to provide the highest quality candidates rather than quantity, sets us apart from our competitors.

In addition to our rigorous selection process, AEP Global offers 24/7 technical support for our operatives on-site, ensuring our clients receive the assistance they need promptly. We can also provide our operatives with comprehensive SSOW (Safe System Of Work) documentation tailored to the project's requirements. This documentation includes LOTO registers, LOTO presentations, LOB (Lock Out Box) Registers, Authorisation Templates, HV Switching Procedures, and PTW Training presentations.

Furthermore, we offer Cx (Commissioning) support for various projects in the energy sector, both offshore and onshore. Leveraging our directors' experience in challenging environments, we have the knowledge and expertise to ensure project milestones are met efficiently by implementing a Cx Plan. Our track record includes instances where clients have engaged us to implement a Cx Plan, ensuring the active participation of senior management and vendors to devise the most effective plan for hitting project milestones. Our dedication to excellence and efficiency sets us apart in the industry.
